

On behalf of SportAccord it gives me great pleasure to congratulate the International Association for Sports and Leisure Facilities (IAKS) on holding their 25th Congress.

I am delighted to represent SportAccord and act as patron of such a long-standing, successful international event.

IAKS plays a pivotal role in the design and construction of new sports facilities within the challenging current environment of reduced government funding and sustainable developments.

The IAKS Congress is the perfect showcase for promoting international exchange, in addition to rewarding exceptional sports and leisure design by young architects.

I wish all those participating in the IAKS 25th Congress a successful and productive time.
